

Robert Audette Publishes First Issue of The Silver Lining

West Tech, Inc., Westbury, NY, has announced the publication of the first issue of its newsletter, The Silver Lining, which will serve as an important resource for those in the metal finishing trades. The newsletter will help inform platers of current news in the industry, methods that other platers have used to solve problems, new products that are now available on the market, tips on how to save money without compromising quality, plus much more.

Robert Audette, AESF Garden State Branch member and publisher of The Silver Lining, has more than 30 years' experience in the field of electroplating, including product development, sales and service. He has lectured extensively and written many articles on electroplating and related topics. He holds an MS in chemistry from Northeastern University in Boston.
